

Internet Privacy Policy for Health Services of Northern New York

Effective Date: December 2011

This Privacy Policy describes Health Services of Northern New York's online data collection practices and how we use and protect your personal information. This Privacy Policy applies to the information collected on this website only and does not apply to information that Health Services of Northern New York obtains about you from other sources.

Your Consent

By using the website, you consent to the collection and use of your information in the manner we describe in this Privacy Policy. IF YOU DO NOT AGREE WITH THESE TERMS, DO NOT USE THIS WEBSITE.

Changes to Our Policy

We reserve the right to modify or amend this Privacy Policy at any time. All changes to this Privacy Policy will be effective immediately upon their posting to the website. We will notify you of material changes to this Privacy Policy by conspicuously posting the changes on the website. Information collected before changes are made will be treated in accordance with the previous Privacy Policy. Each version of our Privacy Policy will be prominently marked with an effective date.

CONTINUED USE OF THE WEBSITE AFTER THE EFFECTIVE DATE OF A PRIVACY POLICY WILL INDICATE YOUR AGREEMENT TO ANY MODIFIED TERMS.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA)

Health Services of Northern New York's use and disclosure of certain information may be subject to the requirements of the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, commonly referred to as HIPAA, as amended by the Health Information Technology for Economic and Clinical Health Act ("HITECH Act"). Any information that you submit to us that constitutes "Protected Health Information" is subject to HIPAA and HITECH. The term "Protected Health Information" or "PHI" refers to personally identifiable information about your past, present or future physical or mental health or condition, and the provision of healthcare to you or the past, present or future payment for such care.

WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION IN THE FOLLOWING WAYS:

1. Provision of care. Our organization may use your identifiable health information in order to provide care for you. Many of the people who work for our organization may use or disclose your identifiable health information in order to plan and provide care to you. Additionally, we may disclose your identifiable health information to others who may assist in your care, such as your physician, therapists, spouse, children or parents.

2. Payment. Our organization may use and disclose your identifiable health information in order to bill and collect payment for the services and items you may receive from us. For example, we may contact your health insurer to certify that you are eligible for benefits (and for what range of benefits), and we may provide your insurer with details regarding your treatment to determine if your insurer will cover or pay for your treatment. We also may use and disclose your identifiable health information to obtain payment from third parties that may be responsible for such costs, such as family members. Also, we may use your identifiable health information to bill you directly for services and items.

3. Health Care Operations. Our organization may use and disclose your identifiable health information to operate our business. As examples of the ways in which we may use and disclose your information for our operations, our organization may use your health information to evaluate the quality of care you received from us or to conduct cost-management and business planning activities for our organization.

4. Disclosures Required by Law. Our organization will use and disclose your identifiable health information when we are required to do so by federal, state or local law.

D. USE AND DISCLOSURE OF YOUR IDENTIFIABLE HEALTH INFORMATION IN CERTAIN SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES.

The following categories describe unique scenarios in which we may use or disclose your identifiable health information:

1. Public Health Risks. Our organization may disclose your identifiable health information to public health authorities that are authorized by law to collect information for the purpose of:

- Maintaining vital records, such as births and deaths.
- Reporting child abuse or neglect.
- Preventing or controlling disease, injury or disability.
- Notifying a person regarding potential exposure to a communicable disease.
- Notifying a person regarding a potential risk for spreading or contracting a disease or condition.
- Reporting reactions to drugs or problems with products or devices.
- Notifying individuals if a product or device they may be using has been recalled.
- Notifying appropriate government agency(ies) and authority(ies) regarding the potential abuse or neglect of an adult patient (including domestic violence); however, we will only disclose this information if the patient agrees or we are required or authorized by law to disclose this information.

- Notifying your employer under limited circumstances related primarily to workplace injury, illness or medical surveillance.

2. Health Oversight Activities. Our organization may disclose your identifiable health information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. Oversight activities can include, for example, investigations, inspections, audits, surveys, licensure and disciplinary actions; civil, administrative, and criminal procedures or actions; or other activities necessary for the government to monitor government programs, compliance with civil rights laws and the health care system in general.

3. Lawsuits and Similar Proceedings. Our organization may use and disclose your identifiable health information in response to a court or administrative order if you are involved in a lawsuit or similar proceeding. We may also disclose your identifiable health information in response to a discovery request, subpoena or other lawful process by another party involved in the dispute but only if we have made an effort to inform you of the request or to obtain an order protecting the information the party has requested.

4. Law Enforcement. We may release identifiable health information if asked to do so by a law enforcement official:

- Regarding a crime victim in certain situations, if we are unable to obtain the person's agreement.
- Concerning a death we believe might have resulted from criminal conduct.
- Regarding criminal conduct at our offices.
- In response to a warrant, summons, court order subpoena or similar legal process
- To identify/locate a suspect, material witness, fugitive or missing person.
- In an emergency, to report a crime (including the location or victim(s) of the crime or the description, identity or location of the perpetrator).

5. Serious Threats to Health or Safety. Our organization may use and disclose your identifiable information when necessary to reduce or prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of another individual or the public.

6. Worker's Compensation. Our organization may release your identifiable health information for workers' compensation and similar programs.

E. YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR IDENTIFIABLE HEALTH INFORMATION

You have the following rights regarding the identifiable health information that we maintain about you:

1. Confidential Communication. You have the right to request that our organization communicate with you about your health related issues in a particular manner or at a certain location. For instance, you may ask that we contact you at home rather than at work.

You must specify the requested method of contact or the location where you wish to be contacted. Our organization will accommodate reasonable requests. You do not need to give a reason for your request.

2. Requesting Restrictions. You have the right to request a restriction in our use or disclosure of your identifiable health information for treatment, payment or health care operations. Additionally, you have the right to request that we limit our disclosure of your identifiable health information to individuals involved in your care or the payment for your care, such as family members and friends. We are not required to agree to your request; however if we do agree, we are bound by our agreement except when otherwise required by law, in emergencies or when the information is necessary to treat you.

Your request must describe in a clear and concise fashion: (a) the information you wish restricted; (b) whether you are requesting to limit our practice's use, disclosure or both; and (c) to whom you want the limits to apply.

3. Inspection and Copies. You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of the identifiable health information that may be used to make decisions about you, including patient medical records and billing records but not including psychotherapy notes.

Our organization may charge a fee for the costs of copying, mailing, labor and supplies associated with your request. Our organization may deny your request to inspect and/or copy in certain limited circumstances; however you may request a review of our denial. Another licensed health care professional chosen by us will conduct reviews.

4. Amendment. You may ask us to amend your health information if you believe it is incorrect or incomplete, and you may request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by or for our organization.

You must provide us with a reason that supports your request for amendment. Our organization will deny your request if you fail to submit your request (and the reason supporting your request) in writing. Also, we may deny your request if you ask us to amend information that is: (a) accurate and complete; (b) not part of the identifiable health information which you would be permitted to inspect and copy; or (d) not created by our organization, unless the individual or entity that created the information is not available to amend the information.

5. Accounting of Disclosures. All of our patients have the right to request an “accounting of disclosures.” An “accounting of disclosures” is a list of certain disclosures our organization has made of your identifiable health information

6. Right to File a Complaint.

If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with our organization or with the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services.

All complaints must be submitted in writing. You will not be penalized for filing a complaint.

7. Right to Provide an Authorization for Other Uses and Disclosures. Our organization will obtain your written authorization for uses and disclosures that are not identified by this notice or permitted by applicable law. Any authorization you provide to us regarding the use and disclosure of your identifiable health information may be revoked at any time in writing. After you revoke your authorization, we will no longer use or disclose your identifiable health information for the reasons described in the authorization. Please note, we are required to retain records of your care.

Information We May Collect

Non-Personally Identifiable Information

When you visit our website, we may passively collect non-personally identifiable information about you via certain Internet technology tools. This information consists of your IP address, cookies and web beacons, as well as information regarding the type of browser and operating system that you use, along with other similar analytic data.

Your "IP address" is usually associated with the network location and physical location from which you enter the Internet.

The term "cookies" refer to electronic data stored by your computer browser. The cookies enable us to facilitate your access to different aspects of the website. For example, by showing when and how you visit our website, cookies help us to see which pages of the website are popular and which are not. Cookies can also help us to improve your enjoyment of this website, for example, by remembering your address or other information when you request information or services on the website. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can disable this function so that your browser will not accept cookies. Please be aware that if you disable this function, it may impact your use and enjoyment of the website.

The term "web beacons" refer to Internet tools, such as transparent images on the website or in emails that we may send to you that help us to determine, for instance, whether a page has been viewed or an email opened. For example, when you ask us to send you information on a promotion or newsletter, we may use web beacons to determine how many of the emails that we sent you were actually opened. In general, any electronic image viewed as part of a web page, including a banner ad, can contain a web beacon.

These Internet technology tools allow us to track the internet browser most commonly used to access our site and the pages that are most popular. These statistics assist us in making our website more user-friendly and accessible.

We may also ask that you participate in anonymous surveys, which allow us to collect additional data to help us improve our site. Participation in such surveys is voluntary and is not connected to any of your personal information.

We may also use third party service providers to assist us in collecting and analyzing this non-personally identifiable information.

Personally Identifiable Information

In your use of the website, we may collect any information that you voluntarily share with us. This information may be collected when you send us emails or voluntarily submit information to us via the website. This information may include your (1) contact information (such as name, address, email address and phone number), (2) age, (3) gender, (4) date of birth, (5) insurance information, (6) health and medical information, (7) account numbers, (8) financial and payment information, and (9) any other information you choose to provide us, subject to applicable laws and the terms of this Privacy Policy.

We may also use third party service providers to assist us in collecting and maintaining this personally identifiable information. However, we require such service providers to maintain the confidentiality of such information.

How We Use the Information We Collect

Non-Personally Identifiable Information

We use non-personally identifiable information in the aggregate to determine how much traffic the website receives, to statistically analyze website usage, to improve our content, and to customize the website's content, layout and services. In addition, we may use your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, to manage the website and to enhance the website based on the usage pattern data we receive.

Personally Identifiable Information

We will use personally identifiable information solely for the purpose for which you provide it and as otherwise may be disclosed at the point of collection. For example, we may use your contact information as provided to us, such as email address, telephone number, and/or mailing address, to contact you regarding administrative notices and communications related to your use of the website or otherwise as you may request, such as for an employment application. As another example, we may use your financial and insurance information to process payments you request or otherwise adjust your account. We will not send you promotions or announcements unless you give us permission to do so.

In providing our services to you, your personal information may be disclosed to or collected by third-party suppliers specifically involved in the processing of your information received via the website and as otherwise necessary to manage our website and provide the services you request. We may also use third party service providers to host the website and gather and use on our behalf your personal information as contemplated by this Privacy Policy and applicable law. All such third parties are subject to confidentiality obligations in an attempt to protect your information as much as is commercially reasonable.

In addition, we may use your Personal Information in the aggregate in a non-identifiable way in order to better understand the services being provided, how to improve these services and how to improve the website. We may provide this aggregated information to third parties, but when we do so we do not provide any of your personal information without your express permission.

We may also use or disclose your personal information and review the status or activity of multiple users to resolve disputes, investigate problems, and enforce our website Terms of Use or other agreement with Health Services of Northern New York. We may disclose or access information whenever we believe in good faith that the law so requires, upon sale or reorganization of our company or some or all of its assets, or if we otherwise consider it necessary to do so to maintain service and improve our products and services.

Except as stated above, we will never sell, distribute, or release to a third party your personal information without your express permission.

Access to Your Personally Identifiable Information

Upon written request and verification of your identity, we will provide you with your personal information in our possession as well as the personal information, if any, that we have disclosed to third parties. Requests for such information should be sent to the contact information below.

You may also update, correct, or delete your personal information in our possession by contacting us using the contact information below.

Handling of Electronic Records and Backup

In general, we will retain all information collected through the website for, at a minimum, the length of time permitted by law. However, we will delete any personally identifiable information in our database upon your request or as otherwise required by law. We may, however, retain non-personally identifiable information indefinitely.

We maintain backup files as a protection against natural disasters, equipment failures, or other disruptions. Backup files protect you and us because they lower the risk of losing valuable data. Backup files may contain records with your personal information. Removing a record from our active files and databases does not remove that record from any backup systems. Such backup data will eventually be passively deleted as backup records are erased through the normal recycling of backup files. In the meantime, as long as backup records exist, they receive the same security protections as our other records.

Security

Communications between your browser and portions of the website containing personally identifiable information are protected with Secure Socket Layer (SSL) encryption. This encryption is to help protect your information while it is being transmitted. Once we receive your information we strive to maintain the physical and electronic security of your personal information using commercially reasonable efforts.

NO DATA TRANSMISSION OVER THE INTERNET OR ANY WIRELESS NETWORK CAN BE GUARANTEED TO BE PERFECTLY SECURED. AS A RESULT, WHILE WE TRY TO PROTECT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION USING ENCRYPTION TECHNOLOGY, WE CANNOT ENSURE OR GUARANTEE THE SECURITY OF ANY INFORMATION YOU TRANSMIT TO US, AND YOU DO SO AT YOUR OWN RISK.

In the Event of a Security Breach of Your Personal Information

If we determine that your personal information has or may have been reasonably disclosed due to a security breach of our systems, we will notify you, at the contact information provided to us, in accordance with and to the extent permitted by applicable state and federal law.

Third Party Privacy Practices

This Privacy Policy applies only to this website as provided by Health Services of Northern New York. This website may contain links to other websites, which may be subject to a different privacy policy or are otherwise maintained or provided by a third party. We are not responsible for the privacy practices of any third party website you access from this website. You should review the privacy policy of every website before using the website or submitting any information to the website.

Children under the Age of 13

No part of the website, or any services made available through the website, are designed or intended to attract children under the age of 13. No personal information is knowingly collected from any person under the age of 13.
